Mr. W. H. Moore and Judge A. B. Baird left for Louisville last Monday, the former as delegate to the Masonic Grand Lodge, the latter to the Masonic Grand Chapter.

LETTERS TO BETTIE.

Oh, "Bettie," does your wife keep a Bible lying by?

If she does, just turn the leaves. Till this passage meets your eye.

It's about the mole and beam—But I will not quote it here, Let you never see it, and, Or my meaning not be clear.

Did you ever quote a line of poetry or prose?

Did you ever reach your hand And pluck a neighbor's rose?

And, as it gave an odor, That you thought almost divine, Did you ever press it gently, And say that "this is mine."

And, "Bettie," we must learn, Both in literature and life, To help our fellow-man, And thus avoid all strife.

We must not show their faults, Tho' they are glaring ones, I ween, But must kindly draw the curtain—Them and the world between.

And, "Bettie," don't be proud, Though I know you are very learn'd, Till a victory we have earned, Till a victory we have earned.

Let "Henri" dream his dreams, And so equate the virtue That is known as charity.

"Morton's Favorite," or the "Little Beauty," an excellent cigar.

A lot of large wooden boxes for sale cheap. J. P. BARRETT.

Mrs. M. H. McIntyre left last week for Washington county, Kentucky, on a visit for a month or so to friends and relatives.

Win. Wickliffe, of South Carrollton, step-father to Mrs. W. T. King, of the Hartford House, paid Mr. King's family a visit last week.

Go to Baer Bros. & Co. for dress trimmings. They have just received a fine assortment of these goods in all shades, and of the latest styles.

Baer Bros. & Co. sell all their goods as cheap as the cheapest, and all of their goods are late styles and good qualities. You cannot miss it by trading with them.

We have a specimen of nice, good Sorghum syrup, produced by J. T. Taylor of Bella Run neighborhood. We understand that he will have 500 gallons for sale.

So, you always were round shouldered 'till Julius Winter & Co., Merchant Tailors, S. E. corner Third and Market streets, Louisville, Ky., "built you up." Never quit dealing there as long as you live.

Low—A brindle, long-haired cur dog, of medium height, lean in order, and answers to the name of "Pup." A liberal reward for any information leading to his recovery. Address this office or Ben Graves, Cevalva.

Eliza Young, the champion boot black, will be at the barber shop during the fair, ready to shine, shave and dress customers. He left his post and spent last week in recreation at Litchfield, and is now ready for biz.

If you want to laugh and grow fat, go to Ford's and ask for "Two Kisses," "That Husband of Mine," "My Mother-in-law," "They All Do It," and many other funny books that will tickle you to death.

Mr. H. W. Adkins, one of the conductors on the P. & E. Railroad, came to town on last Sunday on business for his company. He was quite sick when he reached here, and is still very sick. He is at the Hartford House.

Subscribers to the Temperance Advocate are putting in like pigeons to the post. We learn from the editor, R. V. T. E. Fisher, that he received fifty-six subscribers last week. It has averaged fifty subscribers a week each week since it started.

Dr. Geo. E. Stowers, as previously announced, reached here on the 10th inst. and on Sunday last returned home, and came back Monday bringing his family with him. They have taken rooms at the Hartford House, where they will remain probably a month or so.

Dr. J. F. Bugg, of Sulphur Springs, who came from Indiana about a year since, left a few days ago, and when last heard from was at Grandview, Ind. He was indicted for practicing medicine unlawfully. He was mistaken. He is again here as a "lunatic." Bye, bye, Bugg.

Mr. Malcolm McIntyre, for a long while teacher of the high school here, is now deputy collector for Ohio, McLean, Muhlenberg, Butler and Grayson counties with headquarters here. He is the right man in the right place, and understands the revenue service as well as any man in the State. He is authorized to receive subscriptions to the Hartford Herald.

Mr. J. W. Hocker & Son, of Pincheon, have recently opened up a new coal bank on the lands of our venerable citizen, H. D. Taylor, which they have leased for a term. The bank is situated on the Rochester road below Cromwell about a mile. The coal is known as No. 9 vein and is about four feet thick. It seems that our coal fields are inexhaustible. Messrs. Hocker & Son are now ready to sell coal. See their hand-bills.

Below will be found a list of the Quarterly Meetings of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, for the Owensboro district:

FIRST ROUND OF QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

Lewisport circuit, at Aubury, October 13, 14; Cromwell, at Rockport, October 20, 21; Livermore, at Oct. 27, 28; Havesville, at Havesville, Nov. 3, 4; Hartford, at Concord, Nov. 10, 11; Whitesville, at Mt. Zion, Nov. 17, 18; Calhoun, at Berea, Nov. 24, 25; Yellington, at Berea, Dec. 1, 2; Owensboro, at Owensboro, Dec. 8, 9; Owensboro circuit, at Athey's, Dec. 15, 16; Cloverport, at Cloverport, Dec. 22, 23.

District Stewards' meeting at Owensboro, Thursday, Nov. 1. We desire the presence of all the District Stewards at that time and place.

SAMUEL C. ALLEN, P. E.

Quarterly court has been in session since Monday, and a considerable sprinkling of litigation has been disposed of. His Honor, W. F. Gregory is presiding.

Mr. Robt. Rowe brought a lot of very fine cabbage to town one day this week, one head of which, after being divested of all but the actual white head, weighed 16 1/2 pounds. Don't guess we'll starve out this year.

Abe Bosquit, of this county, was tried before the United States circuit court at Louisville last week, charged with uttering and passing counterfeit money, and was acquitted. John McConnell, charged with the same offense, had his case continued until next term.

Why will you stint yourself to have a high tombstone erected after your death, when you can live long and happy by purchasing your clothes at Julius Winter & Co's, S. E. corner Third and Market streets, Louisville, Ky., and at a very low price.

Mr. A. H. Cummins, one of the cleverest typists alive, has moved his family to town and is occupying the premises of Mrs. Tracy. Alex. is now a fixture in the Herald office, and a regular signe you soon at that. We welcome his family as citizens of our town.

Mr. B. F. Gray and Millard F. Taylor left Beaver Dam last week with a fine lot of stock for the Louisville market. They are enterprising gentlemen, and very beneficial to this section of country, as they are ready and willing to buy all surplus stock at a small margin under Louisville prices.

The "Messenger" is the name of the new paper just started in Owensboro. Mr. James A. Munday is editor, and he "equips" like an old hand at the business. If its future issues are edited with the same ability as the initial number, it won't be long before it enjoys the reputation that the "Monitor" once did—the best paper in the Green River country.

I have just returned from Louisville and now have the largest and best selected stock of fancy and family groceries ever brought to this market, embracing 1 hhd of prime New Orleans Sugar, 5 bags of fancy Louisiana and Rio coffee, and a large lot of bacon, lard, meal and flour. Call and see my stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

E. T. WILLIAMS.

The city "dude" of Hartford have at last concluded to improve a little. They are building a nice substantial walk from the central part of town out to the steam and water mills, and as soon as this is accomplished, they will build on several other streets, provided they can get donations like they did on this line. They are also having the pump in front of Collins' grocery repaired. We trust they will continue to improve so long and wherever needed.

Rev. J. A. Humphrey, in addition to being a very popular preacher, is a good granger, and has shown us a sample of his corn crop produced this year, consisting of the common round-eared or bread corn, yellow or stock corn, four ears, a small white corn with a smooth skin like grain, pop corn, sugar corn, and a kind of popcorn that will grow in a better name denominated popcorn corn, as the grains stand out like popcorn quills. All of these are good specimens of their different kinds.

MARRIED—At the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Foreman, in Hartford, Kentucky, October 15, 1877, by Rev. W. W. Cook, Judge F. P. Morgan to Miss HELEN M. FOREMAN, daughter of L. P. Foreman and Miss Eva Griffin.

While but few of the relatives and neighbors of the above named happy pair were present to witness the celebration of their nuptials, yet we are assured from the esteem in which both the contracting parties are held by a large circle of admiring friends, that the best wishes of our entire community attend them in their new and responsible relations. Judge Morgan is a respectable and respected member of the Hartford bar, whose exemplary conduct in all the walks of life, has won the good will and esteem of all with whom he has come in contact while the gentle manners, thorough mental culture and pleasing address of the bride, have made her a favorite in society, and qualified her in an eminent degree for that most valuable and attractive of all domestic ornaments, a "loving wife." The newly married couple left on the evening train for Louisville, whether they will be gone about a week, after which they will return home.

Cold Weather.

Don't shake your bones out of your body when you can get wall paper so cheap at Ford's.

Utica Lime for Sale.

Just received and for sale by I. P. Barnard, Beaver Dam, a car load of Utica Lime, at $1.25 per barrel, largest size barrels.

Funeral Sermon.

Rev. G. J. Bean will preach the funeral of John Leasure's child, at White Oak school house, on the first Sunday in November, 1877.

Victory for Ohio County.

Hon. S. E. Hill, of this place, won the premium at the Owensboro fair last week in the saddle ring with his bay filly. She was sired by Wazie.

Ho, for the Fair!

Remember that J. F. Yager will have a line of stages running from his stable to the Fair Ground, leaving every half hour during the Fair. Ride with him.

Dentistry.

Dr. G. E. Stowers, a dentist well known to the citizens of Hartford and vicinity, has taken rooms at the Hartford House, where he will be pleased to meet all those wishing work done in that line.

Death.

An infant son of Charles Johnson, near Fordville, died last Saturday of inflammation of the stomach and bowels. His age was eighteen months.

Hall Reduced.

Hardin Kuykendall, who is confined in jail charged with man slaughter, or accessory to it, had his bail reduced by the Judge of the Criminal court last week to $800.

Big Game.

Mr. D. L. Talbot left at our office last Monday what is known as a Sugar-tree good, which weighed forty pounds, and is fifty inches around the largest part of the bowl. Next.

Largest Yet.

Our Sheriff, C. W. Phillips, is not only a good peace officer but a good gardener, as is evidenced by two large sweet potatoes presented to us Monday, one of which weighed five and the other four and one-half pounds.

Still, at It Yet.

Edwards & Foster are still selling the cheapest and best groceries in Hartford. They have just replenished their stock and can fill any order that can be filled in a grocery store. A fine lot of cigars of all the popular brands. They are ready for the fair. You can save money by trading with them.

New Goods! New Goods!!

E. Small's Trade Palace is being filled to overflowing with new nice goods. They are in daily receipt of nice goods. They have just opened up a splendid assortment of ladies' cloaks, of the finest and latest styles, and the ladies are specially invited to call and examine them.

MARRIED.

McAdams—Phillis—At the residence of Rev. E. V. Phillis, on Wednesday, October 10, 1877, by Rev. G. J. Bean, Richard G. McAdams to Miss Maggie J. Phillis.

Phillis—Warden—At the residence of Wesley M. Warden, on Thursday, October 11, 1877, by Rev. G. J. Bean, Mr. Thomas M. Phillis to Miss Sallie M. Warden.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all persons found trespassing upon the property of the Taylor Coal Company, or hanging around with a view of enticing the employees of said company from labor, or intimidating said employees to prevent them from continuing to labor, will be prosecuted to the utmost rigors of the law.

M. STANLEY, Supt. Taylor Coal Co.

Jewelry Trade.

No firm in this Western country can boast of a better reputation for fair dealing than C. P. Barnes & Bro., 224 Main street, Louisville, Kentucky. They are fast becoming the leading jewelers of the West and South. We visited their establishment one day last week, and were shown the orders received by them that morning. They aggregated hundreds of dollars in amount, and came from various points in Kentucky, Alabama, South Carolina, Missouri, Tennessee, New Mexico, North Carolina, Texas. The cash accompanied each order. Their trade reaches every State and Territory South and West, and is attributable to their fair dealing and judicious advertising.

••••• for Frankfort.

Mr. C. W. Phillips, Sheriff, accompanied by G. W. Binger, D. S., and R. B. Thomson of Elm Lick, left yesterday for Frankfort, having in charge John Hunter (col) and J. T. Gideon (white). The former for two years in the penitentiary for burglary, the latter one year for Grand Larceny.

It would seem much more proper according to our way of thinking, to send Gideon to a House of Refuge, as he is quite young and could probably be reclaimed, but confinement in the penitentiary of one of his age, will only tend to harden him in crime. Mr. Tommie Phillis accompanied his father to Frankfort, in hopes that the trip would improve his health.

Groceries for the Fair.

L. J. Lyon proclaims to the citizens of Hartford and vicinity that he has a new fresh stock of groceries, and provisions for sale cheap for cash, or will exchange for country produce at cash prices. His stock consists of canned fruits of all kinds, nuts and raisins, candies, lemons and oranges, fine nice cakes, good cider, a large assortment of coffees, sugars, syrups and teas, macaroni, salmon, lobsters, best mackerel in town, bacon, sugar-cured hams, lard, apple, ground chuck, macaroni, &c., &c. Also coal oil, pine tar, and in fact, every thing usually kept in a grocery store. A splendid line of cigars. He has an eating saloon in the rear of the grocery, where you can get anything to eat on short notice.

These goods were purchased especially for the fair trade. Give him your custom. F. E. KIMBLE, no41-2t Salesman.

Criminal Court Notes.

The grand jury returned the following indictments: John Radford and H. McMillan, each carrying concealed a deadly weapon. W. W. Austin, assault and battery. T. O. Hines, keeping tipping house. Sam. Phelps, disturbing religious worship.

J. F. Bugg, unlawfully practicing medicine.

E. L. Wise, jailor, neglect of official duties.

Sam. Rafferty and Joseph Smith, each for failing to keep public road in order.

Peter May, M. L. Weeks and John Harrison, for unlawfully confederating and banding together for the purpose of intimidation.

The grand jury also reported that the jail needed repairs in the way of pipes and sewerage.

John S. Moore was tried for manslaughter, which occupied nearly the whole of last week, and resulted in a verdict from the jury of nine years in the penitentiary. The verdict was rather a surprise to a majority of those who heard the trial, many of whom predicted Moore's acquittal. His attorneys have appealed the case, and he will remain in jail here for sixty days. If by that time the Court of Appeals have not decided the Sheriff will convey him to the penitentiary. The case was ably prosecuted by Joe Haycraft, Commonwealth's attorney, assisted by Mr. John Chapeze, and the prisoner was equally ably defended by Messrs. Walker and Hubbard assisted by Mr. G. C. Wedding. Several other cases of minor importance were continued and some acquitted, which we deem not necessary to enumerate.

Centertown Letter.

CENTERTOWN, Ky., Oct. 15.

There are some serious accidents to chronicle this week.

HURT BY A HORSE.

Mr. Carson Rowe was badly hurt by a horse falling upon him. He was working the horse, which became frightened and entangled in the gear, and fell upon Mr. Rowe's breast, bruising him severely. There are, however, no doubts of his recovery.

ANKLE BROKEN.

Mr. George Timley, stepson of Ab. Hill, had his ankle broken last Wednesday, while scuffling in play with a companion. Dr. Sanders was called to set the broken limb, and we hear that the patient is doing well.

ANGREYOUS FALL.

We hear that Mr. Timothy S. Bennett, of West Providence neighborhood, fell from the tiers of his tobacco barn one day last week badly breaking both bones of his wrist and dislocating his wrist joint. Dr. J. M. Beverly, of Central, has his case, and though no late news from Mr. Bennett, it is presumed that he is getting along very well.

MALARIAL TROUBLE.

We have several cases of chills, and some other sickness. Mr. Wm. Ford, a young man of our town, has some kind of fever, and is pretty sick.

MATRIMONY.

But notwithstanding fevers and broken limbs, people will marry. We had, during the past week, two weddings, with only supper and breakfast between them as to time, and a few hundred yards as to distance. The first was that of Mr. R. G. McAdams to Miss Maggie Phillis, at the residence of the bride's father, Rev. E. V. Phillis, on the 10th inst.

The other was Mr. T. M. Phillis, a brother of Mr. McAdams' bride, to Miss Sallie M. Warden, daughter of John C. Warden. The wedding took place at Mr. W. M. Warden's, on the morning of the 11th. Rev. G. J. Bean performed the marriage rites for both couples. They all took a short bridal trip to Hopkins county, where they have relatives, and returned Saturday.

PECULIAR VISITS.

Speaking of weddings, we are reminded that there is an agent of the Slinger Sewing Machine Company around here, occasionally, and he visits persons who already have sewing machines. Perhaps he wants to swap machines. Well, that all right, so it's a matter-of-money (matrimony) visit.

OUR VISIT HOME.

Our friend S. B. Bishop, who is teaching at Island Station, McLean county, paid a visit to his home Saturday, and returned Sunday. Sam is looking well, so the girls say.

BASE BALL.

Next Saturday there will be a match game here between the Equality base ball club and the Centertown club.

OPINION OF SORGHUM.

If you want to know Mr. Jacob C. Warden's opinion of making up sorghum molasses, just ask him.

More at some other time.

LELAND.

Litchfield Letter.

LITCHFIELD, Oct. 15.

Editor Herald:

I have just returned from a visit to Louisville, and thinking a few notes might be of interest to your many lady readers that will visit the city this fall, I write you. I have been in the habit of making annual visits and stopping at the Willard and Louisville hotels, but seeing notices of the Alexander Hotel frequently in your paper, we gave orders to the hackman to drive us there, and found it to be quite a fashionable resort; and in justice to Mr. Alexander we can truthfully say, his hotel is second to no house in the city. We had the pleasure of forming the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, and found Mrs. Alexander one of the most lovely ladies we ever met—nothing cold and formal—characteristic of landladies usually, but a kind and gentle word for each and every one of her lady guests, and Mr. Alexander is one of those jovial pleasant gentlemen that make life all sunshine and pleasure. I was told there were two handsome and fascinating clerks in the hotel that add much to the young ladies' pleasure—Messrs. Logan and Jones. As I met Mr. Logan I can speak for myself, but girls, I want tell you what his sparkling, roguish little eyes did for me. Go and be served likewise.

AMUSEMENTS.

We found many attractions in the city, the theatre especially. We saw Raymond in "Risks," which we pronounce splendid.

THE EXPOSITION.

We visited the Exposition and found as good, if not better, than ever before, but many think it not so good, but we suppose it
